

Lieutenant Governor Post-Secondary Teaching Award

Past Recipients

2023

Dr. Loleen Berdahl
University of Saskatchewan

Distinguished Teaching Award

Dr. Berdahl is the Executive Director of Johnson Shoyama Graduate School of Public Policy.

She has enhanced curriculum and teaching excellence at the University of Saskatchewan and across North America in the discipline of Political Science.

Dr. Berdahl is a national leader in advancing skills development for undergraduate students and in connecting academic training with employment and societal needs.

Her excellence in teaching practice, leadership, and innovation is an incredible asset to Saskatchewan, to Canada, and to universities around the world.

Dr. Simonne Horwitz
University of Saskatchewan

Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Teaching Award

Dr. Horwitz is an Associate Professor in the Department of History, College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Saskatchewan.

She has won numerous awards and works tirelessly within and outside the classroom to promote advanced teaching perspectives on campus, and enhance equity, diversity and inclusion for students at the university.

Dr. Horwitz's knowledge of equity, diversity and inclusion is sought after - nationally and internationally.

Her attention to accommodations, passion for inclusivity, and genuine care for students' well-being has made her a pioneer on campus.

Dr. Cheryl Troupe
University of Saskatchewan

Indigenous Teaching Excellence Award

Dr. Troupe is a Métis Assistant Professor in the Department of History, College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Saskatchewan.

Dr. Troupe has integrated Indigenous history, approaches, methods, and outputs at every stage of teaching from undergraduate lectures, through seminars and graduate mentorship.

Dr. Troupe's teaching strategies are drawn from her experiences in the community, her attention to the truth and reconciliation calls to action, and her dedication to Indigenousizing the university learning experience.

Her deep knowledge of Indigenous history, combined with her strong and growing community partners, make Dr. Troupe stand out as a leading Indigenous educator in the province.

Dr. Amber Fletcher
University of Regina

Innovative Teaching Award

Dr. Fletcher is the Academic Director of the Community Engagement and Research Centre in the Faculty of Arts at the University of Regina.

Dr. Fletcher's teaching, research, and service to the community has made a significant impact in Saskatchewan as well as nationally and internationally.

Not only is she exceptionally innovative, her commitment to teaching and mentoring the next generation of leaders and community-based researchers is unparalleled.

Her world-class research, excellent teaching, and broad community engagement make her one of the most innovative teachers in the province.