

TATE
AND THE FLYERS

Special thanks to Jackie Taypotat and Calvin Racette for their work on the creation of this story.

Hello.

My name is Tate.

I am a flyer named
after the wind.

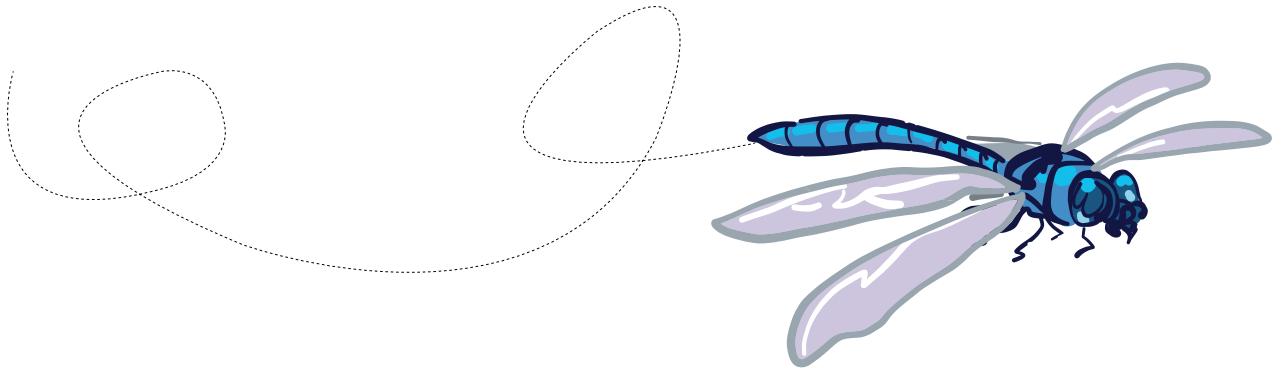

When I go to the pond, I sit in a tree
and listen to Askî and his friends.

I was born in a nest close to the pond and spend all of my time there.

The pond provides me with my
food and gives me a place to drink.

There are many flyers
that come to the pond.

We are lucky to be able to fly. We can move around very quickly.

This has helped us learn so many stories, from so many places.

Our job is to carry messages and to share stories about what we hear.

Many of the stories
are happy ones,
but some are sad.

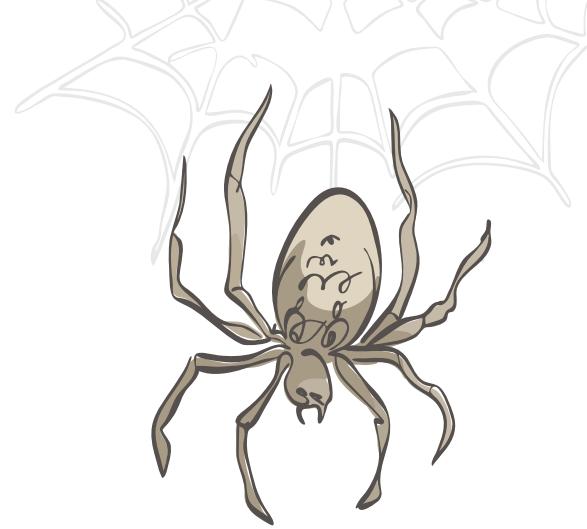

We hear stories
about how we belong
in the Circle of Life.

All of the stories remind us that it is our job to take care of the pond.

These stories help us learn about all the things the Creator has placed on Mother Earth.

The two-leggeds have learned
our stories and they help us
take care of our pond.

They are also learning how to look after Mother Earth.

They are sharing our stories with their children.

They are sharing our stories with you!
