*Here's what you need to know about the 2022
camping season!*

New This Year

- 1 Campsite comparison  - campers can compare up to three sites online to assist in deciding the site that best suits their needs.
- 2 Campsite favourites  - campers can create a list of favourite sites that will be saved in their online account.
- 3 Easier entry permit purchases - campers can click on "Entry Permit" in the top navigation bar on the website, select daily, weekly or annual entry, then checkout and print the permit at home. A temporary permit can be printed for annual vehicle entry permits. The permanent permit will be mailed to the shipping address you specify at the time of order. Please allow up to 10 business days for delivery.
- 4 Programming and event reservations - more park interpretive programs, events and movie nights will be available on parks.saskatchewan.ca this year for visitors to reserve their spot in. Campers are encouraged to check out the events and programs prior to the reservation launch and plan their stays around what's happening in each park.
- 5 More seasonal campsites added due to the popularity of the seasonal camping program, with 763 sites available to book in 2022.
- 6 Making camping easier - Greenwater will have its first Camp-Easy yurt and Duck Mountain will receive their second yurt. Buffalo Pound and Blackstrap Provincial Parks will offer two Camp-Easy yurts this year as replacements for tents.
- 7 Hanging in the park - new this year, visitors can experience hammock camping at Buffalo Pound Provincial Park! The weaver structure accommodates up to six hammocks, so grab a couple of friends and spend some time "hanging" in the park this summer!

with your faves are the
